Interview Study of Fatigue in Narcolepsy

Enrolling adults with narcolepsy who experience fatigue

The goals of these interviews are to:

- Learn more about fatigue in patients with narcolepsy
- Get feedback on questionnaires used to assess fatigue in patients with narcolepsy

The information collected from the interviews may help inform how medicines are being developed to study fatigue in patients with narcolepsy.

To participate in these interviews, you must be:

- 18 years of age or older
- Diagnosed with narcolepsy
- Regularly experiencing fatigue (at least 3 days a week) in addition to excessive daytime sleepiness

Additional criteria apply.

In the first 45-minute video conference, you will answer questions about your experience with excessive daytime sleepiness and fatigue.

In the second 45-minute video conference, you will complete and provide feedback on 4 fatigue questionnaires.

If you qualify and agree to participate in the interviews, you will be compensated $150 for your participation in both interviews.
